RTICLE APPEARED N PAGE

THE GUARDIAN (US) 8 July 1981

TESTIMONY ENDS IN HISTORIC SWP CA

STAT

Socialist Workers Party (SWP) against the structure and leadership of the government office—Best's office—which cited an "infor-FBI, CIA and other government agencies for of the U.S.; even if such advocacy might be mant [who] has played an important a campaign of harassment, intimidation and within the letter of the law." If this position part in 'fanning the flames' of discord and a 12-week trial which produced 8000 pages investigative agencies will be virtually highest levels of the SWP. On June 17 and of testimony. In addition to demanding $40 eliminated. injunction against future government dis- government reiterated its position that it the SWP in 1960 and since 1966, according ruption. The SWP, the largest U.S. need not discover illegal activities before it to his testimony, he had been an informant for for several months. Federal District Judge must be information in our possession that a the party. Thomas Griesa, who is conducting the trial given organization is involved in something to submit briefs summarizing their positions by the end of September.

During the trial, the SWP presented rantless wiretaps, burglaries of SWP offices, ing that kind of philosophy or action. mail openings, the sowing of dissension among SWP members and between the SWP and other groups, and the use of informants documented, the FBI and other investigative in the SWP-all in violation of constitutional agencies have not confined their harassment refute the specific charges, but argued that the Chicago police has forced the FBI to Massey, a member of the SWP in the early the FBI's authority on the campaign soft admit at least 500 warrantless break-ins in harassment came directly from the Prese that city between 1948 and 1966. These sident since the administration of Franklin included break-ins of organizations con-Roosevelt. The government's position, as cerned with civil liberties such as the outlined by witness Herbert Brownell, Chicago Committee to Defend the Bill of attorney general during the Eisenhower Rights and the Midwest Committee for radministration, is: "There never was any Protection of the Foreign Born. Former definition of the methods that were to be Chicago FBI agent M. Wesley Swearingen used in carrying out the directive. The has said he personally participated in about methods were left to the discretion of the FBI" (Guardian, June 24).

In order to justify its activities, the government has attempted to link the SWP to what it characterizes as "terrorist trial. FBI agent Best testified that, "Since activities," particularly in Latin America. the inception of the bureau we have portray the SWP as a pawn of the Fourth of a million informants." As an example of International, the grouping of a number of Trotskyist parties with whom the SWP is in political alignment.

The case has broad implications for all left and progressive forces. The defense argued: "The government has a right to keen itself spying against the party for nearly 40 years. is upheld by the courts, the legal restraints discontent within the LA/SWP." Both sides rested their cases June 25 after that remain against the government's

As a number of cases in recent years have rights.

The government made no attempt to organizations. A lawsuit against spying by sands" were done nationally.

The FBI's use of informants was also documented in the closing days of the SWP The government has also attempted to probably handled well in excess of a quarter

By JOHN TRINKL informed of the activities of groups that the work of FBI informants, the SWP cited a Testimony has ended in the suit of the openly advocate revolutionary change in the 1960s report from the Los Angeles field Socialist Workers Party (SWP) against the

The FBI also had an informant in the 18, FBI informant Edward Heisler testified million in damages, the SWP is asking for an in the closing days of the trial the as a government witness. Heisler had joined need not discover illegal activities before it to his testimony, he had been an informant for Trotskyist organization with some 2000 investigates groups with radical political the FBI. In July 1980, as the SWP suit was members, first filed the civil suit in 1973. views. Testifying June 18, head of the Los coming to trial. Heisler admitted he had A verdict in the case will not be reached Angeles FBI office Edgar Best said: There been an informant and was expelled from

During 1977. Heisler worked on the without a jury, asked lawyers for both sides diametrically opposed to our form of administrative secretariat, an important government and may even be in a position subcommittee of the political committee of where they violently want to overthrow our the SWP. Heisler was also secretary of the governments: So we should direct our SWP's National Trade Union Steering extensive evidence of FBI break-ins, war informants ato obtain information concerns. Committee. In these positions he had access to much of the inner workings of the SWP. Heisler gave the FBI lists of names of people who attended public SWP meetings and copies of political and personal correspondence from SWP headquarters.

The government also attempted to get information from ex-SWP members. Bill 1970s who is now a member of Workers World Party, was subpoensed to appear as a government witness June 19. Forced to attend the trial; Massey made it clear that he would not cooperate. "Giving information or cooperating with the government would! have been politically impossible for me to do," Massey told the Guardian. "The major nas said ne personally participated in about enemy of humanity is the U.S. govern-300 break-ins and that probably "thou-ment." Shortly before he was to be called, sands" were done nationally. the government decided to drop Massey as a

> Whatever verdict is reached in the SWP case, the decision is sure to be appealed to higher courts: The ultimate verdict will have far-reaching implications for left and progressive groups. A victory against the government will not stop repression and spying, but can place testrictions on the state's investigative apparatus. A victory by the government would be an attack not only on the left, but also on fundamental civil lihactine

Sanitized Copy Approved for Release 2010/06/23: CIA-RDP90-00806R000201020002-4